WORKERS COMPENSATION SELF STUDY PROGRAM COMPLETED

California WCCP designation now online

September 29, 2010

Orange, California....Insurance Educational Association president and CEO Roy Little announced the release of IEA's "Disability Rating and the AMA Guides, Advanced" workers' compensation course in an online self study format. The release completes the conversion of all 8 California WCCP courses to an online self study format. The course is also known as "CA 16B" to regular IEA students.

"We are excited about the addition of CA 16B to our California WCCP designation." Mr. Little said today. "With the completion of CA 16B we can now offer all WCCA and WCCP courses in the traditional classroom setting, online instructor led, and now in online self study formats. Providing the latest technology to our students at affordable prices is one of the driving forces behind everything we offer as a company and online self study fits nicely into our already impressive product line." Along with the 8 courses that comprise the California WCCA and WCCP designation, IEA also offers Introduction to Workers Compensation Claims in an online self study form. CA 16B, Disability Rating and the AMA Guides, Advanced, offers great value to claims administrators in any state which uses the AMA Guides.
